Seed Cardigan in Eoru

Birdy begins in the quiet of early spring.

A window left slightly open.

Cool air drifting in.

The soft sound of birdsong as the day begins.

It's that moment just before everything fully wakes — when the light is pale, the air is fresh, and the morning feels full of possibility. The kind of start that stays with you.

After months of weight and layering, everything feels lighter. The days stretch.
The light softens. There's a sense of returning — to yourself, to movement, to ease.

This collection follows that shift.

Natural fibres sit gently against the skin — soft wool that still holds a trace of warmth, European linen that moves with the body, light and breathable.

Nothing forced, nothing excessive.
Just pieces that feel honest, effortless,
and alive in the moment.

The palette is drawn from the season as it wakes.

Washed skies, pale blossoms, sun-faded tones.

Leak Trousers in Cloud Grey, Little Chick Top in Mauve and Headland Knitted Vest in Cloud Grey

Colours that don't demand attention, but settle quietly into it. Birdy is about that feeling of renewal.

Faraway Skirt in Ecrú Stripe and Cocoon Cardigan in Ecrú

Faraway Skirt in Ecrú Stripe and Seed Cardigan in Mocha

A lightness in how you dress, and how you carry yourself.

Like the first
birdsong in the morning—soft, uplifting, and full of promise.

Knitwear

Handmade Knitwear

Every piece in this collection is designed and crafted entirely in-house, allowing us to stay closely connected to each stage of the process. At the heart of our work is a commitment to both craft and community. We use ethically sourced yarns, carefully selected for their quality, longevity, and respect for people and planet.

Our garments are brought to life by a collective of skilled local knitters, whose years of experience and deep understanding of their craft are woven into every stitch. Each piece is made by hand with patience and care, resulting in knitwear that feels considered, personal, and enduring — shaped as much by human touch as by design.

Handmade in the UK

We care about how we create our clothing, using natural products such as wools and linens that have provenance. Creating designs that are timeless, garments that let you add to your existing wardrobe.

Handmade Fabric Collection

Every piece in this collection is made entirely by hand, from the first cut to the final finish, allowing for a close and considered connection to each stage of its creation. At the heart of our work is a deep respect for craft and the time it demands. Each garment reflects years of learned skill – an understanding that can only be developed through experience, patience, and dedication.

The connection between maker and garment is integral to every piece. Guided by practiced hands and an intuitive knowledge of construction, each design is carefully shaped and brought to life with precision and care. This process cannot be rushed; it is built over time and carried into every stitch and seam. The result is clothing that feels personal, deliberate, and enduring – defined by the human touch behind it.

Handmade in the UK

FABRIC

We design and craft the garments in our studio/shed, producing clothing in small batches to reduce waste. This in turn means you buy less, but buy better. You collect a range of clothing that lasts longer and brings more enjoyment.

Windward Shirt

The Windward Shirt is such a versatile piece for the spring/summer season, crafted from the softest linen. A collared, swing style shirt, with a pocket to one side, both the body and sleeve are fluted, creating a relaxed feel, the back of the shirt has a central pleat, which dips lower than the front of the shirt. A clean, simple cut with concealed buttons, finishing on the hip-line (at the front). 3/4 sleeves make it perfect for layering, can also be worn open as a casual light over jacket.

Wren Jacket

Wren Jacket. We adore the Wren Jacket — a sweet, swing-style piece with a raglan sleeve and simple, clean collar line, designed with ease and quiet charm. Finished with a trio of button-and-loop fastenings, each featuring vintage buttons, it's a unique piece to cherish. Made in two linen variations — a soft, unruly lighter weight stripe and a more structured washed Ecrú linen— each offers its own character while remaining effortlessly chic.
